

Simon Green

Senior Vice-President
Global Head of R&D Product Development
CSL Limited

Tuesday, 19 February 2008
commencing 12.30 p.m. SHARP

The Australian German Association Inc invites you to lunch with Simon Green Senior Vice-President, Global Head of R&D Product Development, CSL Limited at 12:30 pm on Tuesday 19 February 2008 at The Australian Club, 110 William Street, MELBOURNE.

In January 2008, Simon returned from Germany where he was General Manager of CSL Behring, CSL's German operations in Marburg. Simon is uniquely placed to comment on CSL's global business, the biotech sector and the operation of an Australian business in the current German (and European) economic environment. This will be of great interest to AGA members.

Simon was recruited to CSL Limited in 1998, following an exciting period of conducting scientific research at Genentech and Chiron Corporation in San Francisco. He graduated as a biochemist from Monash University and completed his PhD in the field of immunology at Melbourne University.

During his time at CSL, Simon has led a collaborative project with the Ludwig Institute for Cancer Research on a novel melanoma vaccine, currently in Phase II clinical trials. He took on additional responsibilities leading the project & portfolio management department in Parkville and contributed to the management of CSL's global R&D portfolio. This in turn led to his promotion to an executive R&D position in Australia and then his role in Germany.

Members are encouraged to bring guests.
